

Language Lab Worksheet: No Brains? No Problem! Surviving the Zombie Apocalypse

Vocabulary List:

1. Apocalypse

Apocalypse - an event involving destruction or damage on a catastrophic scale.

2. Lay out a scenario / Set the scene

Lay out a scenario — basically paint a picture in words.

That's how you set the scene — welcome to storytelling!

3. Second Conditionals (“What would you do if...”)

You heard a lot of this grammar gem: “What would you do if zombies broke into your house?”

That's the second conditional — for hypotheticals, imaginary disasters, and party games that go too far.

4. Gung ho

Feeling gung ho? That's extreme enthusiasm — sometimes too extreme.

5. Get my bearings

Get my bearings - I need a sec to figure out where I am, what's happening.

6. Just in case

Just in case - to protect against something bad that could happen.

7. Reveal / First Instinct / Surrender

First instinct - your natural first action

To reveal - show, tell someone a secret

To surrender - to give up a battle

8. Hero Mentality / Fighting a Losing Battle

@PoducateMe

eslpoducateme@gmail.com

That hero mentality kicks in when you say, “I’ll fight them off!” - you are the main character and it’s your job to save-the-world-whatever-it-takes idea

Fighting a losing battle - you are trying to achieve something but you are not going to be successful.

9. Chaser vs Chasee (-er vs -ee)

-er - the person who does the action

-ee - the person receiving the action

10. Bunker / Hoarder / Weapons (pronunciation alert!)

Bunker = underground safety cave.

Hoarder = someone who’s got 72 rolls of TP and counting.

And quick reminder — it’s WEH-punz, not “WEE-pons.”

11. Circle Back / Barter / First Aid Kit

We’ll circle back to that — classic corporate delay tactic.

Barter = trade your socks for batteries.

First aid kit - a collection of medical supplies and equipment used to provide immediate treatment to minor injuries or illnesses.

12. Adrenaline / Scratch / If it comes down to

Adrenaline says: “RUN NOW, CRY LATER.”

A scratch might be harmless... or a slow death sentence.

Comes down to - your final choice

13. Take out a zombie/ Martial arts / Inventory

Take out a zombie - destroy

Martial arts training - a fighting sport or skills (karate, judo, kungfu, etc.)

Inventory - the things you have a supply of.

14. Run out of / Run low on / Backfire

You’ll probably run out of gas.

Or run low on patience. - both words mean have low amount of something

Backfires - does not go as planned

15. Delegating / Bear on your shoulders / Vigilant

Smart survivors are good at delegating - you can give jobs and tasks to the people who are good at them

Don't try to bear the weight on your shoulders — don't take too much responsibility.
Stay vigilant — alert, aware of your surroundings

Part 1: Match the Word to the Definition

Word/Phrase	Definition
1. Gung ho	A. Keep watch, stay alert
2. Second conditional	B. End-of-world situation
3. Apocalypse	C. Enthusiastic to the point of chaos
4. Barter	D. Hypothetical grammar: "If I were..."
5. Vigilant	E. List of what you have
6. Take out (a zombie)	F. Funny imitation of something serious
7. Inventory	G. Exchange goods without money
8. Parody	H. Eliminate (hopefully without regrets)

Part 2: Fill in the Blank

1. I need a moment to _____ before I decide if that's a zombie or my neighbour in bad lighting.
 2. "What _____ you do if you had to choose between your cat and your canned beans?"
 3. That plan to lure zombies with a flashlight totally _____ — now they're following you.
 4. I always keep a flashlight in my backpack, _____.
 5. We ran _____ of toilet paper by day three. Tragic.
-

Part 3: Multiple Choice

1. What does "get my bearings" mean?
 - a) Go shopping
 - b) Figure out where you are
 - c) Collect rare objects
 - d) Put on armour
2. A "chasee" is:
 - a) The person doing the chasing
 - b) A type of zombie
 - c) The one being chased
 - d) Someone who loves cheese

3. Which of these is NOT a second conditional?
 - a) If I were you, I'd stay inside.
 - b) If zombies arrive, I'll hide.
 - c) What would you do if you had no WiFi?
 - d) If I had more snacks, I'd share them.
 4. What's something you can barter?
 - a) Emotions
 - b) Flashlights for batteries
 - c) Gossip
 - d) Bravery
 5. "Fighting a losing battle" means:
 - a) You're confident and strong
 - b) You're doing great
 - c) You're probably not going to win
 - d) You're taking a nap
-

Part 4: Reflection Prompts

1. What would your first instinct be in an actual apocalypse? Be honest.
2. Have you ever made a plan that totally backfired? What happened?
3. Are you a hoarder or a minimalist? What's in your inventory?
4. In group projects (or zombie attacks), are you into delegating, or do you carry the whole burden on your shoulders?
5. Write your own parody of an apocalypse survival guide in two lines. Make it silly.

